Methodology

Fixed Route Bus & BRT Industry Sampled Average

- Where questions are comparable, results are compared to TransPro’s industry database, containing survey data from transit agencies like Capital Metro in Austin, CATS in Charlotte, MATA in Memphis, RTD in Denver, and others.

- Industry averages are calculated using a 2-year rolling average to ensure averages are representative of the current market.

- For agencies containing multiple survey wave results, TransPro only uses the latest survey results in the database to ensure that the Industry Sampled Average is not skewed towards a specific agency.
